Fort Saskatchewan, July 27.
The preliminary trial of the Indian murderers from Lesser Slave lake commenced here on Tuesday, before Insp. Cuthbert, Mr. Beck for the crown and C. de W. Macdonald for the defence. The only witnesses called were one squaw named Eliza, an old Indian named Ramothinoo and his wife, and Corp. Phillips, thus being all the evidence for the crown. The prisoners were committed for trial to-day, no evidence for the defence being called. There were some six or seven witnesses for the defence here and it is supposed that a special term of the supreme court will be held at an early date to dispose of the case.
A very pretty wedding took place at the Presbyterian manse here on Tuesday evening last, the contracting parties being Corp. C. Phillips, of the N. W. M. P. Lesser Slave lake detachment, and Miss Lola Beebie, of Spokane, U. S. The groom was ably assisted by Sergt. Ritchie, while Miss Elsey supported the bride. The knot was tied by Rev. John Forbes. The happy couple received a large number of useful presents, among which were a lovely bedroom and the groom from the comrades of G division, who also gave a splendid dance in the mess room, after the ceremony, in honor of the event. All the civilians from the Fort and district were present and an enjoyable evening was spent. Dancing was carried on until the small hours of the morning.

He reports that since March, when the company commenced operations in Alberta, they have written the somewhat surprising amount of $150,000. Being farm risks only and the average risk being $800 makes the number of policies very large, reflecting alike the prosperity of the country and the popularity of the company. Since January 1899 the increase in the company's business throughout Manitoba and the Territories has been one million dollars.
Word was sent in to the police detachment here Tuesday from the Indian agency at Siviore Qui Barre to the effect that an Indian there had treated another member of his band, injuring him it was feared fatally, and asking that a doctor and a constable be sent out. Dr. Harrison and two constables drove out at once. The affair was found to be more of a boyish fight in which "Short Legs" had knocked his companion down and knelt on him, inflicting severe internal injuries, probably rupture. The injured boy was brought in to the hospital here where he lies in a precarious condition and his assailant "Short Legs" was arrested and brought in to town and at the barracks yesterday was committed for trial on a charge of aggravated assault.

SEEREA-CORROR.
In All Saints' church last night John W. Shers, of Fort Saskatchewan, member of the legislative assembly for Victoria, and Miss Oretta L. Connor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Connor, of Edmonton, were united in the bonds of matrimony, the ceremony being performed by Rev. H. A. Gray, pastor of All Saints', assisted by Rev. D'Easum, of Fort Saskatchewan. The ceremony took place at 8.30 and the church was crowded to the limits of its capacity with friends of the contracting parties. The bride entered the sacred edifice on her father's arm, accompanied by her bridesmaids, Miss Lottie Ross and Miss Daisy Flint. The groom was supported by W. A. Griesbach and A. C. Harrison. After the ceremony the bride and groom were repaired to the home of the bride's parents where a sumptuous dinner had been prepared and served in spacious tents erected on the grounds. The tables were prettily decorated with flowers and large numbers of Chinese lanterns hung from the roof and lighted up the bride. A display of fireworks was also sent up during the evening. About sixty guests sat down to the bridal supper and numerous toasts were proposed and drunk to the health of those present. The health of the bride proposed by W. A. Griesbach was received with enthusiasm and fittingly replied to by the groom in a few well spoken words. The health of the bridesmaids then followed, replied to by Messrs. A. G. Harrison and F. C. Jamieson and the toast list was concluded with the health of the parents of the bride. Rev. Messrs. Gray and D'Easum also spoke briefly. The supper was concluded and the party broke up about eleven, the bride and groom driving over to Strathcona to be ready for the morning's train.
The wedding was probably the prettiest one that Edmonton has ever had.
The young couple left on this morning's train and will spend several weeks visiting through the eastern cities, after which they will return to make their future home at Fort Saskatchewan.

SESSION NOTES.

OTTAWA, July 19, '99.

The recent deaths of Hon. C. A. Geoffrion, Hon. W. B. Ives and Hon. W. E. Sanford have been a startling break in the monotony of this long summer session. The prominence of the three, and the suddenness of their taking adds to the impressiveness of the circumstance. Senator Sanford's death was by accident, Mr. Ives' taking off was almost as sudden, more mysterious and quite as unexpected. Mr. Geoffrion had been ill for some little time, but not long ago was the picture of health.

Owing to the length of the session and the oppressive weather, the speaker, Sir James Edgar, has been compelled to leave before the close on account of his condition of health. His departure is universally regretted both of itself and for its cause. His duties will be discharged by Mr. Brodeur, the efficient deputy speaker. It is a hopeful sign of the close of the session that on and after to-morrow morning and Saturday sittings will be held. This means that the close must come soon by reason of exhausted vitality if not from exhaustion of business; which indeed still looms large and passes but slowly.

The house is thin these days as many of the members have already paired and gone home to remain. The convenience of pairing has been abused to such an extent as to become a recognized and serious evil. It was a strictly party expedient, only useful for party purposes, but it has grown so great that one of the parties at least finds it being seriously hurt by it. Every pair that is made increases the proportionate majority of the government over the opposition on any vote. Therefore the opposition is likely to set its face against pairing. The motive is not particularly creditable but the result is likely to be beneficial.

An attempted attack was made upon the minister of interior on account of the change in the form of scrip granted to Athabasca half-breeds, by which it was made payable to bearer. In announcing the issue of the scrip some time before, the minister had taken occasion to make unfavorable comparisons between the form of scrip issued by the late government without restrictions and that which he proposed to issue with restrictions as to sale. Now that the restrictions attempted to be imposed had been found impracticable, the effort was made to roast him, without serious effect, however; as it was plain when viewed in a practical light that the form of scrip which would secure to the holder the highest price was the only form he would agree to or be satisfied with. The minister stated that he considered the circumstances would compel the government to endorse the action of the commissioners as far as the Athabasca treaty district was concerned. He seemed to hold out the idea that the original form of scrip would be adhered to in the case of scrip issued in the organized portions of the Territories.

A discussion took place on the vote for Indian Industrial Schools. Mr. Davin feared the minister of the interior was not sufficiently enthusiastic about them and might curtail or abolish them. The minister said he had no intention of doing so. Mr. Oliver opposed Mr. Davin's views and thought that too much money was being spent on the Industrial schools for the results attained. Results were now due, but were not apparent. The pupils had acquired a knowledge of many trades, but were not turning that knowledge to account for their own credit and support, and for the improvement of the condition of their relatives and friends. The motive and management of the schools was all right, but the system was all wrong. They did not and could not teach that individuality and self-dependence which was the great lack of the Indian character.

On the introduction of a government bill to vest the government with the certain control of large works in the interests of the health and general well being of the employees, a debate arose in which much allusion was made to the occurrences on the C. N. P. railway works in 1897 and 1898. It was understood that these occurrences were the reason for the introduction of the bill. J. Ross Robertson, (East Toronto), and editor of the Toronto Telegram, secured the C. P. R. unmercifully. Fraser, Liberal, Guyabero, thought the C. P. R. had shown good will in the principal case, the deaths of Fraser and Macdonald at Pincher Creek, in that they had paid a gratuity of $1,500 to the relatives of each of the men without any limitation as to other actions being taken. A number of members took part in the debate. Mr. Oliver took occasion to correct certain statements made in the senate at last session by the minister of justice in which the blame of the failure of the coroner's inquest was thrown on the late Dr. Meade, the coroner who attempted to hold an inquest. The minister had said that it was because of Dr. Meade's refusal to withdraw from the inquest in order that another coroner might sit, although instructed to do so by the justice department, that caused the failure of the inquest. Mr. Oliver read the telegrams which passed between the agent of the department and Dr. Meade, which showed that the department did not instruct Dr. Meade to withdraw, and that Dr. Meade did not refuse. On the contrary in response to the department's suggestion as to withdrawal Dr. Meade promptly wired his willingness to do so, and was informed in reply that he had better wait—that the department would be responsible for seeing that the ends of justice were met.

Under other circumstances the large amount of the supplementary estimates would be occasion for a lengthy debate, but with the unrest now prevailing amongst the members it is possible that they will pass without a lengthy comment. They develop an important feature of the Yukon policy of the government, namely the establishment of direct telegraph communication at once from Skagway and afterwards from Quesnelle, B. C. Also the construction of wagon roads in the Yukon district. These are important steps in the development of that district.

The passage of the Intercolonial extension bills through the senate discloses the fact that the C. P. R. has not everything all its own way even in the senate. The C. P. R. have fought the Intercolonial extension from start to finish, for the simple reason that it meant that henceforward the Intercolonial would be an active competitor instead of a silent feeder of their line. They depended on the senate to do for them what they dared not ask the commons to do, that is throw out the bill. At the last moment they dug up a clause about unconsignments west bound freight being handed over to the Grand Trunk at Montreal as a reason why the bill should be thrown out. As is their wont they raised the patriotic cry. The clause was so easy to get around that it was of no serious importance and was amended with the concurrence of the Grand Trunk. During the discussion it was developed that Sir Mackenzie Bowell and a considerable following of conservative senators were not at the beck and call of the C. P. R., as is the section of the party which acknowledges Sir Charles Tupper more particularly as its leader.

The passage of these bills renders an early general election less probable than hitherto had been defeated. But there still remains the redistribution bill which is now before the senate and is said to be marked for the slaughter. If the expected happens there will then be sufficient grounds for the government to appeal to the country if it is so desired.

DELEGATES REPORT.

We, the undersigned delegates and land seekers, have for the past few days gone over the Edmonton district accompanied by the immigration agent of this district, Mr. C. W. Sutter, and have much pleasure in stating to intending settlers the following facts.

We have examined carefully the sections gone through and were really surprised at the amount of land under crop and the condition of same.

We would mention the following farms picked promiscuously from many, first that of A. Guidore, of Sturgeon river, range 23, township 56, section 11, where we saw wheat fully three feet in height, beautifully headed with present prospects of yielding from 40 to 50 bushels.

This gentleman has 190 acres under cultivation and although only here six years and coming with very limited capital expects to reap 12,000 bushels of wheat and oats, as last year he had 9,000 bushels which he states was rather a poor year for him.

Coming to Fort Saskatchewan we saw the farm of Jos. Lamoureux, who came here with small capital, but thanks to his pluck and energy has about sixty acres in grain the equal of anything we have ever seen even coming as most of us do from good wheat growing districts.

Another fine farm we wish to mention was that of Jacob Broeder, of Horse Hills district, who has a large area under crop, consisting of wheat and oats. Mr. Broeder came here without capital, working out for the first few years in order to get capital. The herds of cattle we have seen, and they were many, fully equal any grade cattle in our own countries looking now ready for market and only running on the grass, which speaks well for the richness of the soil and grass.

Farmers here can realize from $40 to $47 for three year old cattle and milk cows bring from $30 to $40. Hogs sell at 4½c per lb. live weight.

Sheep at from $4.50 to $5.00 each. The land is especially adapted for mixed farming, roots and vegetables growing in abundance. There are abundant coal beds extending all along the banks of the Saskatchewan river, very easy of access and delivered at $2 per ton or at the mine $1. Regarding timber, parts are thickly wooded with white poplar and spruce which while not very large can be well utilized for building purposes. Permits can be obtained from the local government agent for cutting same, a small fee of 25c being charged for each permit. This permit entitles the holder to cut sufficient timber for both buildings and fencing. As to farm wagons and machinery these can be purchased here as cheaply as in our own districts taking freight and duty into consideration. Dressed fresh beef retails here from 10c to 12c. Butter, 20c. Eggs, 15c. Flour from $1.50 to $2.25 per cwt. The city of Edmonton has furnished a large comfortable building for immigration purposes where intending settlers can leave their families and effects until located, the greatest kindness being shown them by the officials in charge.

As to fruit, berries of the following kinds are here in abundance: Raspberries, strawberries, gooseberries, Saskatoons and currants.

From present indications there is a great future in store for Edmonton city and surroundings. Here are several banks, hotels, general stores as good as any in Canada, and one of the finest public school buildings in this or any other country, and every trade and profession fully represented. In the country districts you will find public schools wherever needed.

Before closing we cannot but thank the government immigration agent, Mr. C. W. Sutter, for the great kindness extended to us and his untiring efforts to furnish us with every information possible which we will long remember.

Respectfully yours,

WILL "REFORM" ITSELF.

The Globe estimates that with vacancies occurring in the senate at the present rate, four and one-third per year, the balance between the parties will be equalized in four years, as it must be remembered the appointment of each successive liberal senator makes a difference of two votes in the conservative majority. While it is impossible to make anything more than an estimate, it is as nearly accurate as may be, to say that by the middle of 1933 the senate will contain a majority of liberals.

A WORD ABOUT REPAIRS.

There is no article that is so closely associated with us as a Watch. It regulates all our business, and is either of the greatest value or no value whatever. A watch must either be repaired properly or ruined, and hundreds of the Watches have been utterly ruined by being practiced upon by unskilled workmen and apprentices. Having been at the service of the largest cities of EUROPE, UNITED STATES AND CANADA, from which I have received diplomas and excellent references for my skilled mechanical work, which proves that I am sufficiently master of my trade. I make this class of work a distinct branch of my business, and in a superior manner, accompanied with a guarantee for twelve months. I shall do my utmost to gain the confidence of all who favor me with their patronage. One trial will prove.

Hoping to have a call from you, I remain,

Yours respectfully,

FROM ARCTIC SEAS.

A letter has been received from W. J. Moran, of the Brown, Morse and Grose party of Ottawa, Montreal and Chicago, who went north from Edmonton Yukon-bound in the winter of '97-8. The letter is dated from Shingle Point, Arctic Ocean, on December 23rd, '98. The writer had left Fort MacPherson on July 23rd, and visited the whaling ships at Hershel Island. When they were leaving for San Francisco Mr. Moran procured a trading outfit from them and established himself at Shingle Point, where he had so far done a thriving trade with the Esquimaux. The weather had not been severe up to that date. He intended coming out by way of Behring's straits and San Francisco by whale ship some time this summer. He speaks of finding some pieces of gold at Shingle point, and would prospect further before leaving for civilization. W. J. Moran and D. Hopkins, of the party, had gone on to Dawson where they arrived safely. Dr. Brown and several other members of the party had gone up Peel river, intending to prospect and winter there.

BASEBALL.

Undoubtedly the best game of base ball yet put up this season was played on the south side yesterday between teams from the Sturgeon and Strathcona. The game was well played and though Strathcona won the result was sufficiently close to make the match very interesting. The Sturgeon went to bat first and while their pitcher was batting he was struck on the right arm by a pitched ball which stiffened the arm so that he was unable to pitch at all and his place in the box had to be taken by his brother, who was to have caught, necessitating a change of battery all around. Four Sturgeon men were struck by the ball in the first innings. The score was 10 to 6 in favor of Strathcona. W. Jackson, umpire.

RED DEER.

Miss Linton, of Vancouver, B. C., is the guest of Mrs. R. L. Gaetz, Blower street. Miss Trimble, of Calgary, is the guest of (Rev.) Mrs. Locke. Dr. Donovan, H. M. Cherry and Panucker Bros. are spending a holiday at Snake lake, camping. Mrs. Burch and Mrs. Dettlor, of Innisfail, will go into camp this week at the same place. Frank Farley, a resident here for several years, sold out and went to Victoria where he had secured an appointment. One week at the coast was sufficient for him. He returned with his wife and family on last week's train. Red Deer is good enough for him. Smith & Gaetz are building an addition to their store and are putting in the foundation. Masons are at work on the new store of S. Wilson. The work on the Queen's hotel is progressing rapidly and will be pushed to completion as rapidly as possible. Only a few days ago three parties were brought before the local justices and fined for being drunk and disorderly on the streets. This was not sufficient warning to parties and two more were brought up before Justice Nansh and one fined for creating a disturbance on the street last week and condemned to fine and to pay costs. The same party consented to pay the damage done to dressed stone belonging to S. Wilson. The overseer of the town is bound to put down such conduct. P. L. Grasse, of Olds, is in town. James Martin has formed a partnership with Jules George, just out from France, and will go into farming and stock raising on an extensive scale.

July 26, '99.

"STEAMBOAT" WILSON IN DAWSON. The Yukon Sun of July 4th, says: Mr. John Wilson ex-mayor of Kalgoorlie, West Australia, arrived in town a few days ago from a long trip via the Edmonton route. The party of nine, English and Canadians, left Edmonton about July 1st, 1898. They had a good run down the river in their steam launch to Fort McPherson, on the Mackenzie delta, in two months. They spent five days, using thirteen dogs, to haul the launch over to Bell river, flowing into the Yukon. It was the first steam launch that ever came down Bell river. Last fall they arrived at Rat river about the first week in September, and were frozen in at McDougall's Pass until June 5, 1899. Four or five men of different parties died at Rat river of scurvy. Ex-Chief of police and ex-Mayor Stewart, of Hamilton, Ont., died at Peel river of this disease. The Wilson party prospected the Peel river, but found no gold. They sent up Mr. McCallum, of British Columbia, and another man an Iroquois Indian, Thos. Lee, to prospect

Old Crow river as far as Dawson mountains. McCallum was frozen to death and the Indian had both feet frozen solid, so that they had to be amputated. This spring the party steamed down Bell and Porcupine rivers to Fort Yukon. Mr. Wilson sent two men to Cape Nome, and hurried on here by the T. C. Powers, leaving the rest of the party to bring the launch up the Yukon. Mr. Wilson left almost immediately for home to attend to pressing business. He went via St. Michael and London.

SENEGA ROOT.

Commercial: Receipts continue light and it is evident the dig will be a small one this year unless there is an improvement. Dealers who have large orders, which have been pending for weeks cannot fill them at the present rate of receipts. For choice dry root 20 cents is being freely offered here. Anything inferior will only bring several cents less than that figure.

D. Bergman & Co., St. Paul, quote 24 cents for first class root.

It has been arranged between Senator Fairbanks and Sir Wilfrid Laurier, acting in behalf of the American and British commissioners that the commission will not meet on Aug. 2nd, but that it shall be adjourned to a date not yet determined, but to be determined later on by mutual agreement.

The international athletic contests at the Queen's club grounds, London, were won as follows: The long jump was won by G. C. Vassall, of Oxford. Harvard won the hammer throwing. Harvard won the 100 yard dash. Cambridge won the quarter mile. Cambridge won the mile run. Oxford won the half mile. Harvard won the hurdles.

PARLIAMENTARY.

Not a little criticism is being indulged in over the very large supplementary estimates, and some are inclined to think it indicates the proximity of a general election. This, however, may be doubted, as the general impression prevails that there will be at least one more session of this parliament.

In addition to the large supplementaries, the railway subsidies have yet to come down. These, together, with the indemnity to Mackenzie & Mann for the Teslin-Yukon railway, which may amount to $300,000, it is believed will amount to about three millions. The belief prevails that there will be two millions for the Rainy river railway, and possibly a subsidy to extend the Dauphin railway to Prince Albert.

It is also thought there will be an estimate to buy a railway in New Brunswick.

It is estimated the country will have to face a gross expenditure of fifteen millions in excess of the average expenditure of past years.

It is understood Mr. Mackenzie, who is now here, will leave for Manitoba shortly, when something definite may be announced on the railway policy. Mackenzie & Mann are understood to contemplate some extensions in Manitoba, and if they cannot obtain subsidies themselves they will likely oppose grants to others. It is difficult at this distance to get a focus on the railway situation in Manitoba.

The explanation for heavy expenditure on public works this year is offered that the late government allowed most of the public works; wharves, etc., to fall into decay and money must be expended to keep them in repair.

A carnival of natural gas still prevails in parliament and goodness knows when the house will get through as it seems impossible to shut of the constant stream. Members are getting very uneasy, and threaten to leave for home, unless the business is wound up forthwith.

BEAVER LAKE EAST.

The people of this settlement made a strong effort to down the gophers this year, but haven't succeeded. Without government aid to clear them out on the open prairie we may about as well give up the fight and leave. A petition is to be sent in asking for a bounty, but it is doubtful what success will attend it. Many communities get a bad name for quarrelling, etc. Upon investigating the matter it is generally found that two or three individuals are the cause of it. These men seem to care little or nothing for the laws of either God or man. Nothing seems too low or mean for them. They are a disgrace to the universe; and if the inspiration would seize them to emigrate to some locality in Africa or the South Seas, where cannibals with appetites for rank food are numerous, their neighbors would be very grateful.

A Mr. Brown, who is on a tour round the world, has been rusticated at Mr. Fane's for some weeks. Rev. Mr. Atkinson, C. of E. missionary, is once more at the lake, and holds regular services. July 20.

McAULEY IS DEAD.

Mr. Price, partner of W. Evans, arrived in Golden on Monday night, the 17th, with the news that McAuley, who was shot at Tete Jaune Cache by Hughes, had died on the 24th, nine days after the shooting. Price buried the body and erected a fence over it. He then came out, bringing with him the widow and two children. They had a very hard trip owing to the high water. Mrs. McAuley has been left at Sullivan river, Price coming ahead with the information for the government agent. Price managed to extract half of the bullet from the wounded man but could not find the remainder. The widow will be the principal witness at the trial of Hughes, which will be arranged for shortly. On Wednesday Price returned to Sullivan river for Mrs. McAuley.

A DAWSON LETTER.

A letter written from Dawson on the 6th July to C.F. Strang, announces the safe arrival there of Jas. Ferguson, of the Ferguson-Clutter party of Klondikers, and who wintered at Wind City. The party during the winter hauled their outfit 164 miles to the head waters of the Stewart, built boats there and drifted down, prospecting as they went, but without finding anything. There was a little gold there, but it was too fine. Above the Fraser falls they found nothing. Fresh meat was plentiful. Mr. Ferguson says: The last we heard from Wind City of the parties who stayed there to go back to McPherson was that there were about five cases of scurvy and one man named Sherman had died. All the parties who came over the pass are now in Dawson. A large number of men wintered at Rat river and there were several deaths there. Clutter, who went down with us, is now at Circle City. Mr. Wilson, better known as "Old Man Wilson," who stayed at the Jasper House, was at McPherson. He got the scurvy there and intends getting out by the H. B. Co. steamers to Edmonton and will probably get in about the end of August. "Steamboat" Wilson, the Australian, got here a couple of weeks ago and left last week for western Australia. From what I have seen and heard this country is not anything near what it was boomed up to be. There are a few goods creeks, but that is all. In March the thermometer was 60 below."
